Dear Reader,

The convening of the 1st "Annual Iraqi-European Business & Investment Forum" in Athens, on 21-22 April 2016, has added a new dimension in the image, status and reputation that we enjoy among the Arab Federations and Chambers of Commerce. This has been demonstrated clearly in this Forum, by the support of the Federation of Iraqi Chambers of Commerce and Baghdad Chamber of Commerce, as partners and main sponsors, as well as the involvement of the Arab-European Joint Chambers as supporting organizations, which marks the first ever collective cooperation among these Chambers.

The outcome has been very positive, as we received encouraging signs and feedback from those who attended this event and took part in the networking and B2B meetings. Iraq is full of potentials in virtually all sectors of its economy. It is up to the Greek side to further explore these opportunities and enhance its presence in the Iraqi market.

Following this event, the Chamber has hosted a small delegation of Tunisian businesswomen, in coordination with the Embassy of the Republic of Tunisia in Greece. More information, you can find in the following pages.

Earlier this year, the Chamber provided its support to the exhibition of the renowned Arab artist, Jamal Joratli, hosted by Benaki Museum. Similarly, it is now giving its support to the exhibition of Jamal in Corfu Museum of Asian Art, which will take place from 18 June to 15 September 2016.

We seize this opportunity to thank our member-company "Helios Pasta" for sponsoring this issue and we look forward to our next set of activities with the same spirit, enthusiasm and dedication in order to serve our member-companies the best way possible.

Athens, 21 – 22 April 2016

Iraq and Europe: Cooperation & Growth

On April 21-22, 2016, the Arab-Hellenic Chamber of Commerce and Development organized the 1st edition of the "Annual Iraqi-European Business & Investment Forum", under the theme "Iraq and Europe: Cooperation & Growth". The Forum was held under the auspices of the Presidency of the Republic of Iraq, the Hellenic Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Hellenic Ministry of Economy, Development & Tourism, as well as the General Union of Chambers of Commerce, Industry & Agriculture for Arab Countries. This Forum was a result of the close relations and coordination between the Arab-Hellenic Chamber and its partners and main sponsors of this event, the Federation of Iraqi Chambers of Commerce and Baghdad Chamber of Commerce. Special mention and thanks go to the member of our Board of Directors, Mr. Jaafar Rasool Al-Hamadani, Chairman of the Federation of Iraqi Chambers of Commerce, Chairman of Baghdad Chamber of Commerce and Vice-Chairman of the General Union of Chambers of Commerce, Industry & Agriculture for Arab Countries, who is behind the initial idea of holding this event in Athens, Greece.

We, at the Arab-Hellenic Chamber, take pride in the fact that other Arab-European Joint Chambers joined us in this event as supporting organizations and have contributed to its success. The event also had the support of the office of the European Commission representation in Greece.

The significance of this Forum lies in the fact that it comes at a time that Iraq is determined to move into a new era and revive and modernize its economy and create closer business relations with its European counterparts. The objectives and results anticipated are the creation of job opportunities for the Iraqi youth. This event was well-received and the President of Iraq, H.E. Mr. Fuad Masum, was represented by his advisor, H.E. Mr. Sharwan Kamil S. Alwaely. The attendees also included high-level State officials and 50 Iraqi businessmen in all business sectors. From the Greek side, it was attended by H.E. Mr. Markos Bolaris, the Greek Alternate Minister of Agricultural Development and Food, and other State officials, Arab Ambassadors accredited to Greece, member-companies of the Arab-Hellenic Chamber and other businessmen and businesswomen.

The opening speeches by both sides emphasized the need for closer and greater cooperation and the creation of new partnerships. The Forum's topics were carefully selected in order to reflect areas of possible cooperation and opportunities, especially for the Greek side. The first session was exclusively dedicated to "Iraq's Investment Opportunities and Business Environment" while the second, which was a joint session, was held under the title "Petroleum Industry and Sustainable Energy in Iraq", with the participation of Greek and Iraqi experts. The third and fourth sessions, entitled "Construction Works and Infrastructure Projects in Iraq" and "Transfer of Technology and Vocational Training" were also joint, with additional representation from European participants. Discussions followed each session and B2B meetings were held between Greek businessmen and their Iraqi counterparts, which were highly organized and well-received.

The Forum closed with an official Dinner, attended by Mr. Giorgos Tsipras, Secretary General for International Economic Relations of the Hellenic Ministry of Foreign Affairs, all the Iraqi delegates, the Arab Ambassadors accredited to Greece and business guests from the Greek side.

The "Annual Iraqi-European Business & Investment Forum" constitutes another milestone in the history of the Arab-Hellenic Chamber, in serving its members and the Greek and Arab business communities, towards fulfilling its main objective in enhancing the Arab-Greek relations in every business sector.

ANTIPOLLUTION S.A. supports refugees

Since February, the port of Piraeus has become a shelter and temporary living area of 3,500 refugees, size equivalent to a “small village”. The waste produced at this part of the city on a daily basis has led to an increase in the total urban waste volume. Garbage collection in the location where refugees stay, which also constitutes one of the most important gates of our country is carried out by Antipollution on a daily basis.

Antipollution is one of the largest waste management companies in Greece. Fully recognizing the responsibility towards the society and the environment, Antipollution supported once again the refugees and the administration of the port of Piraeus, ensuring the proper functioning of the port.

Antipollution, provides the necessary equipment to keep the points where refugees are staying clean, without any financial assistance using its own resources, vehicles and manpower. The importance of the company’s contribution is further enhanced, taking into account the forthcoming arrival of tourists to Greece in view of the summer, which requires the image of a beautiful and clean port.
