Tunisian-Hellenic Business Gathering

This Business Gathering of the Greek and Tunisian businessmen in Greece is first of its kind and, therefore, is of utmost importance. It comes at a time when both countries are striving for economic growth and anticipate direct foreign investments. This event will offer the opportunity to explore the potential of Tunisia, the gateway to Africa, in terms of its geopolitical location, its proximity to Europe, as well as its working environment and its advanced investment regulations. The Gathering will also showcase the skilled human resources Tunisia prides itself in, its integral infrastructure, the wealth of natural resources and last but not least, the advanced cultural atmosphere and a its good living standard. All these factors have contributed to a great presence of international companies in the country that continues to attract foreign direct investments.

This venture will establish the basis for enhancing the existing friendly as well as business relations between Tunisia and Greece. It will further contribute to the historical continuity the two countries share in their long-standing relations.
