PREFACE

Ambassador of Iraq to Greece

It is a great pleasure and honour to participate in the 4th Iraqi- European Business and Investment Forum. I would like to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to the organizers and participants of this important gathering, and especially to the Arab-Hellenic Chamber of Commerce and Development for its efforts.

There is no doubt that the economic and trade situation has been steadily changing in Iraq as well as in Greece and also in the European Union due to several factors, political and economic ones in particular, creating a different environment compared to that of the previous years that this forum was held in.

Iraq has achieved, thanks to the efforts and sacrifices of its great people and support of its friends, to liberate its entire territory from the desecration of Daesh terrorist groups. The Iraqi official institutions have done exceptional work to improve security and restore stability in the liberated Iraqi cities. The policy of economic and financial reforms of the Iraqi government paired with the rise in oil prices have achieved a rapid economic recovery.

We believe that this new environment is not only suitable but also particularly favourable for European investment, given that the economic and trade cooperation between Iraq and the EU has proved to be in the best interest of both parties. I strongly believe it is a great opportunity for European companies to acquire a large share of the reconstruction of cities which were destroyed by Daesh terrorist groups and also of the reconstruction of infrastructure in other Iraqi provinces.

Mr. Shorsh Said

In fact, the European Union is a strategic partner for Iraq, and this cooperation has been further enhanced since the Strategic Partnership Agreement between the two sides, entered into force in August 2018. This agreement includes cooperation in a variety of fields such as democracy, human rights, economic affairs, trade, immigration, security, energy and environment.

The Iraqi government is engaged in providing the appropriate conditions and necessary facilities to European companies through regulations and laws that support the European investor. Iraq is ranked 37th when it comes to the volume of trade exchange with the European Union. In 2018, trade exchange between Iraq and Greece amounted to 4,548 billion euros, while trade exchange between Iraq and the E.U. reached 19.966 billion euros.

I hope that this forum will be successful and contribute effectively to further increasing the level of economic and trade cooperation between Iraq and Greece on the one hand and Iraq and the European Union on the other.

It is our deep belief that this forum and efforts for cooperation enhancement would benefit further and would achieve the forum's goals by making it possible to hold the 5th Iraqi-European Business and Investment Forum in Baghdad. It is now the time to make it happen! In this regard, I would like to take this opportunity to invite all Greek and European companies to participate in the 46th session of the Baghdad International Fair that is to be held on 1st November 2019, which has for years been honoured with the participation of a large number of international companies, coming from across globe.

Ambassador of Greece to Iraq

I wish to wholeheartedly congratulate the Arab- Hellenic Chamber of Commerce & Development and the Baghdad Chamber of Commerce for creating an institution within their institutions, by organizing for the fourth consecutive year the “Iraqi-European Business & Investment Forum” in Athens, Greece.

The Iraqi economy already enjoys better business conditions after the defeat of the Islamic State. The hydro-carbon sector forms the backbone of economic activity, with vast oil potential yet to be explored. Iraq is a promising country with a young population and a high level of education. Its Government expresses its determination to reconstruct the industrial base, rehabilitate agricultural production and renovate the tourism sector. Iraq’s economic stability remains of great importance. It offers the country new opportunities for a rebalanced engagement with all its neighbours in the economic sector. Companies from European Union member states can support Iraqi companies to reintegrate into the regional economy. It is also true to say that Baghdad shows eager will to open up for business.

The European Union has identified trade and investment as key interests and strategic objectives in its relations with Iraq. Last year, all EU member states enjoyed healthy economic growth rates. The EU has been built from the start on a common understanding that trade and investments are the base of prosperity in Europe but also for growth of wealth in other parts of the world. Therefore, we see a dynamic trade with Iraq and European investments in this country as a central goal to develop our relations.

From ancestral times, Greece has always had close friendly relations with Iraq and all Arab nations from the beginning of our recorded history. It is in favour of sincere and constructive dialogue and ready to contribute its full share as a member of the EU and NATO. Mutual trust has been built up through centuries of cooperation and confidence. Our Government, wishing to promote bilateral relations and our civilization, has taken significant initiatives in the past four years in the wider Eastern Mediterranean and Middle East area. Iraq has responded positively to all these initiatives, with the participation of H.E. Mr. Mohamad A. Alhakim, its Foreign Minister, to the trilateral Summit of Jordan, Cyprus and Greece in Amman, a couple of months ago, as the most recent example.

Given the untapped potential in our bilateral economic relations, Greece is ready to work towards enhancing cooperation in all fields and increasing the volume of trade and investments. Greek construction and pharmaceutical companies, especially, have a great reputation for their state of art expertise and reliability in carrying through major projects.

I wish every success to the work of the 4th Iraqi- European Business and Investment Forum and look forward to its significant contribution to our bilateral relations, of which I am certain.

PREFACE BY THE CHAIRMAN OF ENTERPRISE GREECE

Beginnings of a New Era

A new era is beginning: one that promises greater prosperity for both our peoples.

Now is a particularly exciting time for Greece: the country is at a turning point, having left behind its recent crisis and the country is on the path to economic growth and prosperity. At the same time, Greece's economy is re-orienting itself to international markets with Greek businesses expanding overseas, welcoming foreign investment, and creating added value with new products, services and innovation.

Important reforms, implemented in the last decade, are bearing fruit: the Greek economy is recovering, public finances have been repaired, and the country's competitiveness has been restored.

In the last two years, both FDI and exports have reached record highs. Major multinationals – from the Middle East, from China, from Europe, from the U.S. – have chosen to invest in Greece.

That's because Greece is an ideal location for international businesses in a globalized economy. Situated at the crossroads for trade, transport and energy distribution between Asia, Africa and Europe, Greece combines a key geostrategic location with deep cultural heritage, a mild climate and unparalleled natural beauty. Greece offers a skilled and well-educated workforce, and competitive costs.

In Iraq, political and economic developments indicate the beginning of a new era of stability. The country looking to rebuild its economy after decades of war, sanctions, sectarian violence and the rise of the Islamic State. The World Bank estimates that Iraq will need almost $90 billion for its reconstruction.

Economic growth is gradually picking up as capital investments and reconstruction efforts take hold. More than 85 countries, international financial institutions and major investors from around the world are helping Iraq in those efforts.

Enterprise Greece stands among those ready to help. The Agency operates under the supervision of the Ministry of Economy and Development and provides full spectrum of services related to international business relationships and domestic business development for the international market. Enterprise Greece promotes Greece as an investment destination on the one hand, and in parallel showcases the significant export potential of Greece's manufacturing, agricultural, cultural heritage, and service sectors.

In championing investment and trade, Enterprise Greece outreaches the international business community with a variety of events and missions, and supports investment and trade delegations to accompany Presidential, Prime Ministerial, and Ministerial missions abroad.

Greek exports have recently been driving the country's economic recovery. During the recession, Greek companies – from food processing firms, to construction and engineering companies, increasingly turned to foreign markets, emerging in a strong position as the economy returned to growth. The last three years have been banner years for Greek exporters, as Greek companies export their products and know-how to the world.

Greece is justly famed for its excellent food products, which have been gaining ground in international markets. But other important export sectors include petroleum products and chemicals, building and construction materials, textiles and fashion, and cosmetics. As the Greek recovery gains ground, the significant untapped potential for Greek exports will continue to be an important driver of growth.

Greek exporters of building and construction materials – along with Greek construction companies and engineering firms – are already active throughout the Middle East and looking for new opportunities. In the past several years, Greek products and skills have been used in the monuments and public facilities of the region, from Saudi Arabia to Egypt.

As Iraq recovers, the economic and commercial potential is enormous. This is an area that can be explored together. In several sectors, there is great potential for partnerships between Greek and Iraqi businesses. These include energy, tourism, construction, technology, as well as environmental services and agribusiness, among others.

Our two countries have a shared interest in regional prosperity and sustainable development. And at Enterprise Greece, we believe that we are at the start of a new era for both Greece and Iraq.

FOREWORD

Harris Geronikolas
President

Rashad Mabger
Secretary General

Dear Reader,

On June 13, our Chamber's new Board of Directors has been elected for a term of three years. It is represented by the Arab and Greek side with good participation from new prominent businesses of both parties. The inclusion of new representation in the Board will have its positive impact on our future activities and events and will contribute to enhancing the Chamber's status as one of the most vocal Joint Chambers in Greece. Throughout the Chamber's history, we have been proud to have a close association with our member-companies. We would like to seize this opportunity to welcome the new members and at the same time convey to our friends and colleagues who left the Board, our deepest appreciation and best wishes in their future endeavors.

In this special issue of MAN which is published on the occasion of convening the "4th Iraqi-European Business and Investment Forum", we would like to express our appreciation to Baghdad Chamber of Commerce, for entrusting us again with the organization of the 4th Forum. Our cooperation has been impeccable and we pride ourselves in this association. Undoubtedly, these previous three Forums have sparked interest of both sides in cooperation and creation of new business partnerships. It has also contributed to the elevation of the Greek-Iraqi trade balance and to the increase of the visit frequency of the Iraqi businessmen to Greece, with interest in exploring the opportunities in the revived Real Estate sector, as well as other business fields.

This year marks the 40th anniversary of our Chamber's establishment. It is an opportunity to reflect on our past failures and successes, and to assess our role in the development of Arab-Greek relations throughout the four decades. We look to the future with optimism and are committed to maintain high quality services for our member-companies and for all business communities in Greece and the Arab world.

The flagship event of this year will be the convening of the "8th Arab-Hellenic Economic Forum", scheduled for 27-28 November, 2019.

While we will continue building up on the success of the previous Forums in terms of topics of interest for both Arabs and Greeks, we will add new domains and areas of interest, that will be presented in our Forum for the first time. We will further ensure the diversity and high caliber representation from across the Arab world.

Stay tuned for more information in the coming days and weeks.

Arab-Hellenic Chamber of Commerce & Development:

40 years of Excellence in Partnership

2019 marks a significant milestone in the operations of the Arab Hellenic Chamber– the 40th anniversary from its foundation. These passed years can be defined as a kaleidoscope of successes, failures, happy memories, strong relationships and warm friendships, while always maintaining our values and principles which are: Excellence in service, through innovation, by people who care.

We have positively impacted on business relations between the Greek and Arab business communities by constant support and excellent service. We hope to continue to endure and add value for our communities on both sides, for our members and non-members alike and for the entrepreneurs who may seek our services and who we serve. Endurance, however, is not easy. Meaningful endurance is even harder. For an organization to endure 40 years and be relevant today is quite a feat. If we learned one thing from those years, it is that enduring requires remaining relevant and relevant requires meeting the needs of our members and our business communities. To be more relevant and more valuable today is an honor that goes to few.

We want to endorse innovation, but we also want to ensure that no one is left behind in the new developments and transitions. The way we live and work is rapidly changing and we are facing new challenges and are confronted with new demographic realities and fast technological developments. We are therefore aware, that further development will entail more commitment from our side - from the staff and the Board. We want to focus on diversifying our concepts, on elevating the trade balance in our communities and on committing to international trade relations and its objectives which are – contributing to job creation and generally improving the living standard of our communities. We have taken huge steps in that direction and are moving forward by adopting advanced form of trading, the cornerstone of which is the transfer of technology and know-how from Greece to the Arab world.

This year's milestone is not only an occasion to look back, but also to look ahead, and what matters most now is what we do next. During the year of 2019, we plan to embark on a series of activities, reflecting on our previous success and taking advantage of our vast database and our unique business network across the Arab world which will help us move forward and will elevate us to new heights in our role and mandate to promote Greek-Arab relations.

Our Chamber has been loyal to its objectives and has earned a unique status and reputation for its integrity and quality services that it has been delivering to all its members and non-members in Greece and the Arab world. We have stories about overcoming challenges, that show the human face of our organization and our communities. We have also stories about significant milestones and successes of our organization that demonstrate its development and ethos. Our doors will always remain open for all businesses looking for new opportunities, innovation and expansion. We pride ourselves on our good record of successful activities, events, business deals, as well as our association with many outstanding Greek and Arab companies, along with our active relation with the Union of Arab Chambers, the Arab Federations and Chambers of Commerce and our sister Arab-foreign Joint Chambers.

The real measure of our achievements and excellence in partnership, however, is the growing list of our members and their testimonials. The entrepreneurs and businesses on both, the Greek and Arab sides of our communities are the heart of our endeavors and claim to be empowered, optimistic and enthusiastic.

The history of our Chamber is not only about business. It is also about people and we cannot find words to express our thanks and gratitude to everyone who has supported our Chamber throughout the years. Its successful growth is a direct result of a combination of its valued and resourceful staff, its effective Board, its loyal members and generous sponsors, who all played a significant role in helping AHCCD achieve its goals. We are inspired to move forward so we can further build on the foundations created since its establishment.

Before we conclude, we want to say that the road ahead will be challenging, as unpredictability will continue to rule, but we will continue to stay motivated to strengthen our capabilities and to spread understanding and good relations among all parts of our region.

Bon voyage to us all for our journey to future!

The First Athens Real Estate Expo has Completed with Great Success

The 1st Arexpo Welcomed More Than 10,000 Visitors From Greece And Abroad.

The first real estate exhibition ATHENS REAL ESTATE EXPO 2019 hosted at the exhibition center HELEXPO MAROUSSI and was successfully completed on Sunday 9/6. AREXPO 2019 had more than 10,000 visitors, who had the opportunity to get acquainted with all issues surrounding the real estate market in Greece. The presence of more than 100 exhibitors - from real estate, investment and insurance, as well as from equipment companies - provided a wealth of information and options to visitors who came to inform about news and prospects of Real Estate in our country.

The satisfaction of visitors and exhibitors from their contact and interaction was measured to over 95%. Each exhibitor has on average more than 100 B2B meetings during the three days and has collected dozens of contact details of individuals, landlords and interested customers.

In AREXPO 2019, the event "Challenges and trends in Real Estate. What's next?", attended more than 400 executives of the real estate market. In this first big open discussion about the real estate market and its future in Greece, professional speakers and scientific consultants in the industry with great experience, presented important information about the market and its evolution. The issues discussed were: The Golden Visa era, the evolution in tourist property market, Real Estate tax changes, open minding statistics on housing market, educational programs in order to save energy in business.

During the evening, a special reference was made to the extremely topical issue of Airbnb. In particular, it has been examined how it has developed, how it affects prices, the legal framework of the owners, as well as the estimates for its future.

Significant conclusions were also made for the purchase of hotel properties, while the presentation of two new property valuation indicators, which in the near future will be available to the public, was also interesting.

The next day, the co-organizers (RM International and Cryssi Efkeria) have assumed the responsibility and promise that Athens Real Estate EXPO 2020 will be even more impressive, with even more information and training of executives, with international presenters and even more visitors, making Arexpo an international exhibition connected with the real estate market in Greece.

Besides, as the new Regional Attorney, Mr. George Patoulis said at the opening ceremony "Real Estate is an area inherent in the development of a country!" AREXPO 2020 has already started its preparation in order to be more impressive!

Greek Ambassador to Iraq pays a visit to Baghdad Chamber of Commerce

On 30 June 2019, the Greek Ambassador to Iraq, H.E. Leonidas Contovounisios paid a visit to Baghdad Chamber of Commerce and met with the Chairman of the Board Mr. Jaafar Rasool Al-Hamadani with who he exchanged views on issues related to the Iraqi-Greek relations and their cooperation with our Chamber, in particular the tradition to hold, since 2016, the Iraqi-European Business & Investment Forum in Athens, with special emphasis on the upcoming Forum which will also take place in Athens, Greece, on 10-11 July 2019. The previous Forums sparked the interest of the Iraqis in Greece and greatly contributed to the increase of the trade balance between the two countries. Frequent visits of the Iraqi businessmen in Greece opened up new windows of opportunities, which is demonstrated by the growing demand in the Greek Real Estate Market, in which the Iraqis now top the list of property buyers. H.E. the Ambassador Contovounisios and the Board Chairman Mr. Al-Hamadani expressed their satisfaction regarding the existing friendly Iraqi- Greek relations and welcomed any initiative to further enhance this relation. During this visit, Ambassador Contovounisios presented a letter from Mr. Theodore Fessas, President of the Association of the Greek Industry (SEV) to the Chairman Mr. Al-Hamadani, with regard to the intended visit of the Greek business delegation to Baghdad during the month of October. # The Vision of European Refining Industry for 2050

The evolution of the Refining Industry and Liquid Fuels on the way to a Low Carbon Economy

The EU is the global leader in the effort to address climate change, and is currently preparing its 2050 Strategy on Energy Transition, based on the goals set by the Paris Climate Agreement. As the objectives of the EU are becoming more and more ambitious, with the end result being a zero carbon footprint economy, some questions arise about the future of the Refining industry. “Will we continue to need oil in the next decades? What will be the role of oil and what the role of liquid fuels in the future? Will there be refineries in the future, and if so in what structure?”

The European Refining industry is the first among the large energy intensive industrial sectors of the EU to recently present an integrated proposal for the future of energy, its so-called Vision 2050, which provides answers to these questions. Announced in 2018 by the European Petroleum Refiners Association, FuelsEurope, the Vision 2050 is a result of a very intensive process of two years, in which the Hellenic Petroleum Group participated, as an active member of the Association.

It entails concrete proposals, demonstrating how the sector can be part of the solution in the fight against climate change, and how it is committed to contributing to the objectives of the Paris Climate Agreement, while at the same time continuing to reliably feed the citizens and the economy of the EU with liquid fuels and products that have a reduced carbon footprint.

The Vision for Low-Carbon Liquid Fuels for Europe

- In our Vision, Europe’s citizens and businesses will be supplied with liquid fuels and products that are progressively lower in carbon intensity, being used in progressively more efficient vehicles, setting a long-term pathway toward a low-emission and resilient economy.
- In our Vision, the Refinery of the Future, capitalising on its technological know-how and flexible infrastructures, will increasingly use new feedstocks, such as renewables, waste and captured CO<sub>2</sub>, in a very efficient manufacturing centre, integrated in a cluster of industries, in synergy with other sectors, such as chemicals, district-heating, sustainable biofuels and power industry. These clusters will process and exchange a variety of feedstocks and semi-finished products – such as renewable hydrogen, waste carbon, sustainable biomass, waste, residual heat, conventional and synthetic crude oil and renewable power.
- Our Vision is ambitious but achievable. It is based on both established and emerging technologies, and on models of industrial collaboration built on the principles of the circular economy and resource efficiency. However it will require an enabling policy framework.
- Our Vision, combined with increasingly efficient use of low-carbon products in transport and other industries, will give the EU the means to achieve its climate change mitigation objectives.

- Our Vision represents an industrial opportunity for Europe to develop low-carbon technologies and offer them to the world as part of the global climate solution.

We are fully committed to collaborate with other industries and policymakers to deliver our Vision, and to be a major player of the long term industrial and energy solution for Europe, enabling climate leadership and contributing to economic prosperity.

Europe and the world will need liquid fuels and products for many decades: the role of low carbon fuels

- After over a hundred years, hydrocarbon liquid fuels remain unrivalled for use in transport thanks to their superior energy density; they are simply the best form of portable energy storage and delivery. Whole sectors of transport and industry cannot function without them.

- To meet the EU and global climate change mitigation objectives while continuing to provide affordable mobility, vital to citizens and industry, there will be a need for both “low-carbon” electrons and “low-carbon” molecules. While electrons offer a viable alternative for passenger cars and vans in cities, molecules for liquid fuels will still be needed, especially for long haul heavy duty road transport, aviation, and marine, as well as for petrochemical feedstocks, lubricants and other products.

- Low-carbon liquid fuels can be among the most cost-effective options for cutting CO<sub>2</sub> in transport. Part of this is due to extensive and reliable distribution infrastructures already in place, a clear advantage compared to other energy solutions requiring the build-up – often with public funds - of new infrastructures.

- In the transition towards lower emissions road transport, low-carbon molecules will contribute by reducing emissions of all the vehicles in circulation, while the gradual penetration of new alternative technologies requires much longer to provide significant results.

- Many technologies will be needed to produce low-carbon liquids with the potential to deliver low-emission mobility across life-cycle in all the transport segments, such as sustainable biofuels, CCS/CCU<sup>1</sup>, renewable hydrogen and power-to-liquids.

There is no silver bullet: limited electrification beyond the bus and light trucks segment

Low-carbon liquid fuels and products

In light blue sectors for which the use of petroleum based liquid fuels can be replaced by electrification or by renewable hydrocarbons.

In dark blue, sectors for which petroleum based liquid fuels will be difficult to replace by electrification and will need low-carbon liquid fuels or feedstock.

CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of different drivetrains and fuels

- Assumes lifetime 210,000 km, uplift of NEDC to real - world fuel consumption (~35%/40% for ICE/EV).
- GHG from fuel/electricity consumption is based on the average fuel/grid electricity factor over 15 yr. vehicle life
- Assume battery pack is not replaced during the vehicle lifetime
- Assume vehicles are produced in Europe
- Assume the vehicle's fuel and/or electricity consumption does not change with vehicle age

We propose that the contribution of low-carbon fuels is accounted in the CO<sub>2</sub> performance standards for cars and for trucks, through the adoption of a holistic, Well-to-Wheel (and eventually Life-Cycle) approach.

The Refinery of the Future and its Role in the Energy Transition

• EU refineries are perfectly placed to be low-carbon manufacturing centres integrated within a cluster of industries - they already have many technologies to combine and optimise the chemical formulation of their respective products and demonstrate, with the extensive integration of refineries and petrochemical sites how these industrial synergies enhance the competitiveness of the industrial cluster.

• The refinery of the future will have the possibility to further expand this industrial collaboration by participating in joint initiatives to develop innovative low-carbon technologies for reducing the overall emissions of the cluster of industries and of their products.

• It will work on further improving the carbon-efficiency of its operations, through the advancement of its energy management system and the adoption of new technologies.

• It will continue supporting investments in manufacturing low-carbon fuels and other lowcarbon products.

• It will engage in expanding, deepening and developing collaborative projects with other industries to enable emissions reduction across the full value chain.

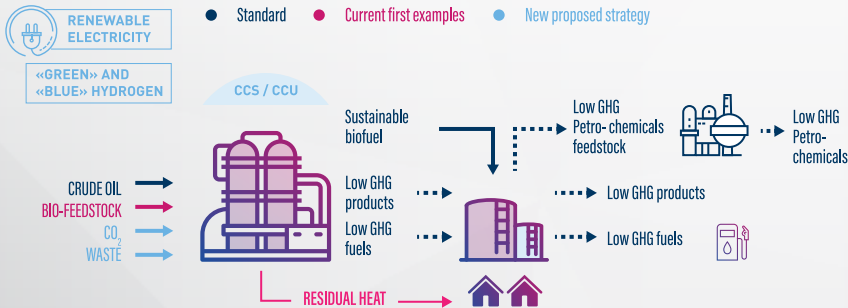

• Through the energy transition, and beyond, the refining industry will deliver low-carbon products to society while continuing to provide skilled jobs, scientific and financial contributions to the EU economy. This Vision will also ensure energy diversity and security of supply for the EU. The collaboration between industrial sectors will give the EU the global technological leadership for the low-carbon transition, creating opportunities for exporting technologies and business models.

The refinery of the future as an energy hub... ...within an industrial cluster

Evolution is not just a theory....

...we are thinking beyond tomorrow

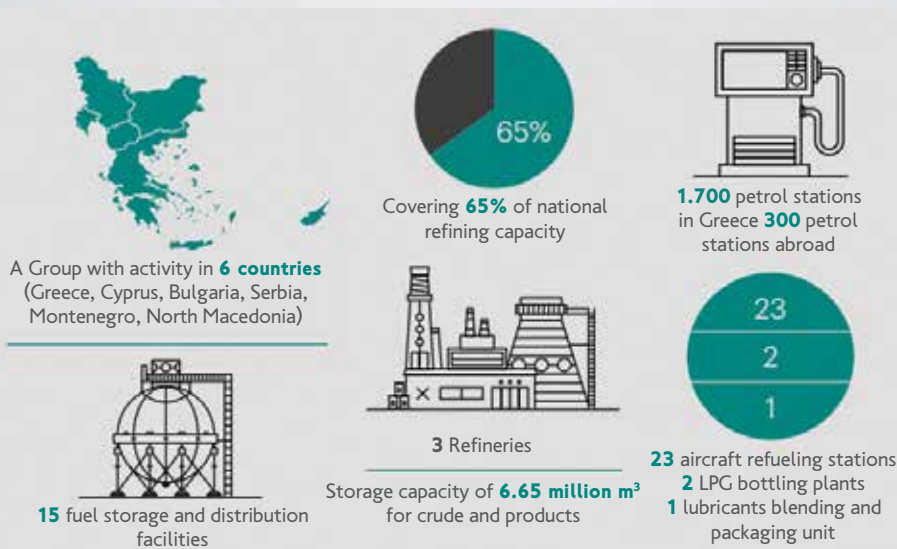

Low carbon fuels production from renewables, algae, plastic waste.

Golden Visa Programme Home in Greece, Step to Europe.

The new laws of the Ministry of Development, Competitiveness and Infrastructure and the Ministry of the Merchant Marine and the Aegean now make the legal framework favorable for strategic and private investment in Greece. This includes promotion and support of residence in Greece for non-EU domiciled investors by means of a distinct five-year renewable alien residence permit, applicable also to executives in strategic investment projects and foreign commercial/industrial and maritime companies active in Greece.

A real estate purchase in Greece of just 250,000 euros (regardless of annual income) entitles purchasers to a special renewable alien resident permit for non-EU citizens and their families and provides them with the right to visa-free and unhindered travel throughout the EU.

The EGNA Navridis & Associates lawyers are glad to responsibly take up, handle and process all required stages in the issuance of a resident alien permit. We oversee the completeness and accuracy of the portfolio to be filed with the competent administrative agencies.
